

Central U. S. Earthquakes 1800-1983

This is a display of all earthquakes large enough to be felt. The earthquake location is indicated by a red symbol. The table at the upper right gives the distribution of earthquakes according to magnitude. Such a table is important in defining expected earthquakes. The data base was compiled by Dr. Otto Nuttli of Saint Louis University

Submitted by Steve Sibson,
M. J. J. J.