1 South Dakota Data Request

On page 8 of Exhibit A of the 2014 Annual Report, “Residential Equipment Program – Gas Measures,” please explain what the cost category “supplemental payment” consists of.

Response:

Residential Equipment Program – Gas Measures supplemental payments are a result of incorrect measure information being entered originally when processing an application for payment in MidAmerican’s tracking system and MidAmerican has either received corrected information from the trade ally or the customer after the original rebate check has been issued to the customer. There were five customers that received a supplemental payment in 2014 through this program. All five supplemental payments were a result of the wrong forced air furnace model being either included in the original application or selected in error during processing. Once the model number is verified in the field, the supplemental payment is issued for the difference between the original payment to the customer and the amount of the appropriate prescriptive incentive rebate.
